General Mahone-A Fight Indeed. It is reported that General MAHONE will soon take the field in person in the Petersburg district, and undertake the bitter fight which he knows he must make if he consents to be a candidate for Congress. The Index-Appeal says :

"It is reported that Colonel Brady will write a letter declining to be a candidate for Congress in this district, and urging his friends to support General Mahone for that honor. This may be reasonably interpreted as a declaration of Mahone's candidacy and the opening of a red-hot fight in the district." General MAHONE's candidacy would call out the entire Democratic strength of the Fourth district. The Democrats of that district, always faithful, would work with redoubled zeal, and, always liberal, would redouble their moneyed but Russia has been warned by contributions, in order to defeat the prince of mischief-makers. It would indeed be a " red-hot fight." The full power of the Democratic organization of the State would no doubt be brought to bear upon that district in the event referred to, for the reason that to kill off MAHONE would be to kill the worst party that was ever known in this Commonwealth. The negro majority is so large in the Petersburg district that a solid negro vote would elect General MAHONE without any assistance from the whites. Perhaps it has been ascertained that he is the only man in the district to whom LANGSTON and the other negro aspirants would be willing to give way. though it must be added that he is as bold a leader as ever headed a political party. He has no ungrounded fears. and, unfortunately for his opponents, his success is allowable.

and the other Republican aspirants would of course be expected to clear the track for the Great Mogul; but whether they would all do so or not we is the leader.

Mr. GAINES's county, tells us that Mr. GAINES understands BRADY to have declined in his favor, and that MAHONE is not a candidate at all. article appear.

Ohio Politics. Lieutenant-Governor KENNEDY, or " BOR" KENNEDY as he is generally called, has been nominated for Congress in the Eighth district of Ohio. He owes his nomination to the fact that as presiding officer of the State Senate he so ruled as to enable a minority to unseat nority into a Republican majority. that State of queer politics and tricky politicians.

We have not finished the story of KENNEDY'S strategy. After getting | sion is that HALSTEAD is the better possession of the Senate by what we man. might call a coup d'etat, the Republicans proceeded to redistrict the State for the election of congressmen, and performed this job with so much skill that it is now feared by the Democrats and hoped by the Republicans that the latter will elect about two thirds of the members of the national House of Representatives to be chosen this fall, despite the fact that the present delogation stands eleven Democrats to ten

Republicans. It will thus be seen that Mr. KEN-NEDY not only converted a Democratic Senate into a Republican one by his strategic rulings, but in doing so insured his own nomination and election to Congress. What other State can point to a son who is the peer of KENNEDY? Where is there another man who has had the unparalleled impudence to decide that a minority of a legislative body could unseat and seat members enough to give the party represented by the minority dute control of all the legislation of the State? The reader will at once recall the fact that HAYES is an Ohio man. but he cannot charge HAYES with motion that landed him in Washington.

Lieutepant-Governor KENNEDY's rulings in the case of the Hamilton | Two Pinches of Snuff. A Novel. By county delegation in the State Senate have been made an issue in the current campaign in Ohio, the Democrats having denounced those raliogs in their platform; but we do not expect much good to result from raising that issue. Ohio politics and Ohio politicians are not to be judged by the standard of any other State. The peop'e of Ohio seem to be a law unto themselves, and to have a thorough contempt for honest men and fair methods. We are afraid that even the Buckeye Democrats are not above

Russia's Claim to Kham-i-ab. The fact that Russia continues to claim Kham-i-ab is generally taken to this county is as follows: mean that she does not wish to settle the Afgban boundary question ; but, on the contrary, is determined to keep it open in order that she may have an excuse for fighting as soon as her pre parations for war shall have been completed. No doubt that is the true solution of Russia's course. In the first place, she cannot expect that England will recognize her claim. Indeed, England cannot do so without grossly violating her obligations to the Ameer of Afghanistan. There is no question, as there was in dispute over Penjdeh, touching the rights of ABDURRHAMAN in the premises, and England would have no excuse for surrendering Kham-i-ab. It is admitted that the latter is undoubtedly in Afghan territory, and the Ameer demands that England sustain him in possession of it. In the second place, it is generally conceded that Russia must fight in the near future. The pressure of the war party and the discontent occasioned by the checkmate of the Czar in the Balkans caunot be withstood much longer. Another direct movement upon the Balkan provinces is hardly to be thought of just at present. The Bulgarian Union not only places a wedge between Russia and Turkey and between Russia and Greece-the only Power that would now be in sympathy with the Czar in case of a Russo-Turkish warkans must be preserved. That is only opportunity for satisfying the demands of the war party. Yet, after all, it may be that Engand is no less anxious than Russia to keep the Afghan boundary question open. At this particular juncture another "Penjdeh incident" might prove most welcome, seeing that it would give the new Ministry an occasion for pursuing a vigorous foreign policy. Should SALISBURY handle no scruples. "It is said that the scum of Europe come to this country in order to rise." We notice that a Chicago jury has shown an inclination to help it to rise.

The public looked for Colonel James

D. Brady's card in the Index-Appeal this morning announcing his withdrawal pear. This card was prepared, however, and was published in dodger form for circulation. For some reason very few persons were permitted to see it, and to-day not a copy could be obtained. It is stated that in this card Colonel Brady withdraws from the canvass and advises the nomination of General Mahone by acclamation by the Convention for Congress as one who would unite all elements of the without reservation yesterday that he was out of the race, and reiterated that statement again to-day. Why his the public is not known, but there is evidently some reason for it. Possibly it may appear at a later day, or possi bly the announcement may be made to the Convention itself. Meanwhile a good deal of talking and caucussing are going on in political circles, and the leaders are keeping their counsels very closely. It is reported on the streets that the Knights of Labor are discussing the policy of taking part in the congress-sional campaign.

Mr. Peter F. Cogbill renewed his bond to-day as collector of customs for this district.

THE WHISLPOOL CRANKS One Hakes a Successful Trip and An other is Drowned.

A Buffalo (N. Y.) special says : Graham made his second successful trio through the whirlpool rapids this afternoon. The barrel was the same as that used in the first trip. A slight change was made in the hammock, the inside of which was raised up so as to throw the head out. The head of the barrel was taken out, and in its place a canvas was tacked around the edge, leaving a hole sufficiently large to let his head through, and fastened closely around the neck. This left his head and face plainly visible to the crowd-fully 1,000 trong-standing on the banks and

The barrel was taken down the bank early in the afternoon and fastened to the shore under the trees, near the old Maid-of-the-Mist landing. At 3:15 o'clock Graham started leisurely down the bank and stripped, preparatory to the trip. At 3:50 o'clock the barrel was towed out into the centre of the stream. Five minutes later the rope was cut off and the barrel started down, passing under the bridge a little nearer the Canadian shore than on the first As he passed the Manning elevatrip. As he passed the Manning eleva-tor his head could be plainly seen, and as the barrel whirled round all had a chance to see his face, which could be easily recognized. The barrel was several times out of sig the whirlpool near the Canada shore at 4 o'clock. The course was such that the barrel went into the centre of the whirlpool, where it circled around, gradually nearing the Canada shore for of the Falls, who had gone to the point to view the trip, took off a part of his clothing preparatory to entering the but the barrel drifted in so water, close that he could catch it. Graham was in a very bad place, drifting among the rocks and breakers near the outlet, and had he not been caught would have stood a good chance of being killed. So close was he to the shore that he called to some one to come out and get him. When taken out of the barrel it was found that both elbows and one knee were more or less bruised by striking against the cask.

Graham says that the weight of the waves had no effect on him, but that the spray nearly strangled him, and $1,000 would not tempt him to repeat the trip. It is doubtful if he would have stood the trip through the Devil's Hole rapids.

J. Scott, a noted fisherman, of Lewiston, who was anxious to go down on the dummy Maid of the Mist, and who also figured as an important witness in the Webb inquest, was drowned in the whirlpool about noon. He had been hanging around all day, intending to earn $10 offered for taking Graham out of the whirlpool, and, with a life-pre-server, had been giving exhibitions in swimming and diving. About noon he jumped into the water off Thompson Point, at the outlet of the whirlpool, and was drowned. The body at once rose to the surface and was caught at

Professor A. L. Donaldson, the Baltimore swimmer, who has been exhibiting his skill in this city for the past three days, says that he intends trying to go through the whirlpool rapids on a raft. Mr. Donaldson says: "I will make the attempt some time next week, and I think I can do it safely. The raft will be made of the staves of beerkegs. It is impossible to break them, except with an axe. It will have large rings fastened on the sides, and will have iron handles on both top and bottom, so that in case I am thrown off I can easily grasp the rings."

Professor Woodrow Triumphs.

An Atlanta (Ga.) special says: In the trial of Professor Woodrow before the Presbytery of Augusta for teaching heretical doctrine in connection with the theory of evolution in the creation of man, Dr. Adams to-day concluded his argument for the prosecution, and the accused Professor replied.

On the final vote thirteen members voted Dr. Woodrow not guilty, and nine voted him guilty on the first count of the indictment. On the other counts the majority of his votes was larger. Dr. Adams at once gave notice of an appeal to the Synod, which will meet in Sparta in October. The Presbytery then adjourned.

DEATHON THE TRACK MAN BUN OVER AND HIS HEAD

Preparations for the Coming North Carolina Democratic Convention-The Wilmington Sufcide, &c., &c.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch RALEIGH, N. C., August 20.—Last night a train on the Raleigh and Augusta Air-Line railroad ran over Duncan Thompson, a white man, cutting his head off and otherwise badly mangling him. The train was going around a sharp curve at the time. James Thompson, a brother to the man killed, was knocked off the track at the same time. The night was dark and the engineer could not see ahead. The coroper of Richmond county was notified of the accident and held an inquest to-day. Both men were drunk, so much so that the one spared does not even yet realize the fact of his brother's awful death.

COMING DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION. All preparations are complete for the meeting of the Democratic State Convention here on Wednesday naxt. The State Central Executive Committee will hold a session on the 24th. Three can-didates for judges of the Supreme Court are to be nominated, and the nominees of the judicial districts are to be ratified or rejected.

The rain on Tuesday night in Williams township, Chatham county, is said to have been the heaviest ever known. The land was badly washed and some lowland crops almost destreyed. THE WILMINGTON SUICIDE.

More evidence has been obtained to establish the fact that the man who committed suicide at Wilmington Friday last was a son of W. G. R. Frayser. A few days before he committed suicide a man called at the office of the Chess Carley Company and solicited aid to enable him to get to Charlotte, where he said he had relatives. While in the office he wrote a note, in which he stated he belonged in Louisville, Ky., and that he was one of the crew of the steamer Britania, which was wrecked while on the passage from Valparaiso to New York, to which note he signed the name of George M. Wilson, name stated in the telegram he had assumed.

John Nichols, of this city, has finally determined to make a race in this congressional district against Major Graham. His card will be out in a few days. He will run as a labor candidate, and expects the solid vote of the Knights of Labor. The Republicans will not make a nomination, but will generally support Nichols. A telegram announces that the Republican Judicial Convention at Jackson nominated George H. White for solicitor of the Second judicial district. He is a colored lawyer. His principal opponent for the nomination was John II. Collins, also colored, who for eight year; has been solicitor.

MEXICAN WAR-FEELING. The war-feeling has run pretty high in this State. Governor Scales has received a number of applications for commissions and also for authority to aise companies. It is remarkable how many people are imbued with the war spirit.

Rev. Dr. Bailey, of the Biblical Recorder, the paper which made editorial remarks in reference to the Democratic nomination of Latham in the First district, said to-day that his article was not intended as even hinting at Independentism. He asserts that it was not written because Skinner is a Baptist, and says the latter does not belong to that denomination. It appears that there are personal objections to Latham which gave rise to the article. the purport of which has been generally misunderstood. A REMARKABLE CHANGE. The weather has taken a remarkable change. After the torrid temperature of Wednesday there came Wednesday night and yesterday very heavy rains At Wadesboro' nearly 44 inches fell in twenty-four hours. Some streams ten minutes. C. D. Carlton, a cittzen are again high. To-day the temperature is so low as to nearly necessitate fires. It is bad on the cotton. The grape crop has been marketed in great part. The returns are very satisfactory. The crop at this point is above last year's high standard as to quantity and quality.

The Fayetteville Observer and Gazette has been sold by J. R. Myroner to G. G. Myroner, and its publication will be continued.

MORE CHARGES.

Comment is excited by very grave charges made by a paper at Sc Neck against the authorities of Halifax county for mismanagement of poorhouse. It is asserted that most scandalous abuses exist. Official inquiry will be made into the matter.

Governor Scales, though an extremely modest man, is nevertheless very sensible of the high compliments paid him by the various Democratic conventions in the State. Nearly all of these have adopted resolutions endorsing him and his administration of public affairs. They are sincere and deserved compliments. Governor Scales cannot serve another term although he has many times been spoken of in connection with the nomination in 1888. The Constitution of the State provides that no person elected to the offices of Governor or Lieutenant-Governor shall be eligible to the same office more than four years in any term of eight years. unless the office shall have been cast upon him as Lieutenant-Governor or president of the Senate.

FELL DEAD. J. R. Robinson, track-master on the Atlanta and Charlotte Air-Line, fell dead while at work near Lowell vesterday. Heart-disease was the cause.

There are intimations that Charlotte is to be made the eastern terminus of the Western North Carolina railroad, instead of Salisbury. The rumor may have foundation. In this case a rail way from Statesville to Charlotte would form part of the line.
